Important additional data is set forth below:

TABLE II

Year	Telephones in Service At End of Year (#000)	% Change From Prior Year	Average Toll Messages Per Day (#000)	% Change From Prior Year
1965	3,108	5.5%	320	13.1%
1966	3,281	5.6	357	11.6
1967	3,446	5.0	387	8.4
1968	3,659	6.2	438	13.2
1969E	3,900	6.6	505	15.3
1970E	4,150	6.4	580	15.0

E--Estimate.

As can be seen from the above tables, growth in earnings per share was relatively low from 1963 through 1967. Increases in the absolute number of telephones in service averaged around 5.3% through 1967 and average toll message grew at a declining rate. However, in 1968, telephones in service jumped 6.2% and average toll messages, 13.2%. Unfortunately, the tax surcharge took $0.16 from 1968 results and net per share dropped 1.2% to $1.64, against $1.66 in 1967. Without the surtax, then, earnings would have been $1.80, or an 8.4% increase.

In 1969, Mountain Bell was granted net rate increases of about $12.5 million on an annual basis, most of which became effective in the second half. However, around $3.7 million of the $5.9 million award in Colorado could be decreased or eradicated if the Federal Income Tax surcharge is reduced or eliminated. The complete loss of the $3.7 million would cost Mountain Bell around $0.05 a share in 1970.

We expect telephones in service to show a 6.6% increase to 3.9 million this year and average toll messages per day to produce a 15.3% jump to a 505,000 rate by 1969 year end. In the nine month period ending August 31, 1969, Mountain Bell earned $1.43 a share, versus $1.19, and we estimate $1.90 for full 1969, a 12% increase over $1.64 a share in 1968.

For 1970, the full impact of the 1969 rate increases will be in effect. Telephones in service could grow 6.4% to 4.15 million and average toll messages may continue its recent 15% growth rate to 580,000 a day by December 31, 1970. On a full 10% surtax basis, we project profits per share to increase by about 8% to $2.05, but the $0.05 loss of part of the Colorado award would give Mountain Bell an estimated $2.15 a share, or a 13% increase. A 5% surtax for six months will cost the company around $0.05 a share.

Looking further ahead, we believe the company can maintain an 8-10% compounded annual operating revenues growth rate. However, due to lags in achieving telephone rate increases, profits may show a somewhat lower growth rate of 6-8% a year.

Dividends — In the five-year period (1964-1968), Mountain Bell paid an average of 70% of net earnings in dividends, but in 1967 and 1968, the payout rate was 73% and 76%, respectively, due to the slowdown in earnings and the surtax. This year, 65% of estimated earnings will be paid out in the $1.24 dividend. We expected both continued high interest costs and record capital budgets to keep the payout rate at around this level.

The company recently raised the dividend to $1.36 a share, commencing with the January 15, 1970, payment of $0.34. Hopefully, the surtax will be eliminated by 1971 and a modest 6% earnings increase (from a hypothetical $2.20 per share for 1970 assuming no surtax) could bring per share profits to the $2.40-2.45 level in 1971. Based on a 65% payout, future dividend increases are a possibility.

Summary and Conclusion — In our opinion, a growing telephone company with the ability to generate earnings increases on the order of 6-8% a year is capable of an above-average P/E multiple when compared with the typical utility. At 11.1 times our 1969 estimate of $1.90 a share and between 10.2 and 9.8 times our 1970 range of $2.05 to $2.15 per share, the stock of Mountain Bell appears to have limited downside risk. Further the current $1.36 dividend offers a generous 6.5% yield.

We recommend the stock for conservative quality-seeking investors looking for both a good income yield and moderate capital appreciation potential.
